

Two City Men Are Decorated For Gallantry

Heered for active service with the regiment, the day broke out. He was born at Glasgow, Scotland, Nov. 3, 1902.

He landed with The Royal Edmonton Regiment in Sicily in July 1943 and after serving in Italy and on the western front during which time he was promoted lieutenant-colonel and appointed to command an Ontario infantry battalion, he returned home on Feb. 14 last.

The citation accompanying the award follows:

On Aug. 13, 1944, Lt.-Col. Cromb assumed command of the Lincoln and Welland Regiment during the battle for the high ground southwest of Breteville in France. He was immediately required to effect a reorganization of the battalion to prepare it for a further task.

DIFFICULT TASK

This he accomplished, under the most difficult circumstances, displaying remarkable initiative and sound tactical judgment. Since that time he has led his regiment into every operation in which it has participated, and throughout he has shown a magnificent example to all ranks. It was the Lincoln and Welland Regiment under his leadership that established the first Canadian bridgehead over the Seine river in August, 1944, and it was this officer's coolness in the face of heavy fire, and his gallant leadership, which inspired the regiment in their further engagement to consolidate the position.

Lt.-Col. Cromb again proved himself a sound and forceful commander in the battle for Bergen Op Zoom. To exploit the success of a previous tank and infantry thrust, he quickly implemented a change in plan, out-flanking enemy localities, and reinforcing the garrison of the city.

The reorganization and consolidation entailed the occupying of a battalion locality known as Zoom by night. He personally directed the establishment of this locality and maintained contact with the enemy during the night by active patrolling. It was due to the initiative of this officer that a firm base was provided, without loss of valuable time, to enable the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders of Canada to mount a successful assault across the river the following morning.

STEADINESS

His steadiness and fairness as a commander have gained for him the unflinching support and confidence of his officers and men. His excellent judgment, courage and tireless energy have maintained the Lincoln and Welland Regiment a well organized, well trained, keenly offensive team. Lt.-Col. Cromb has never considered his personal safety in the carrying out of his many difficult tasks and has led his regiment with great distinction at all times.

Cdr. Benjamin Satten is a son of Aaron Satten, 10550 111 street. He is overseas with the Royal Canadian Artillery, born at Kam-sack, Sask. May 24, 1918, he went to Vancouver at an early age, and was employed there as a clerk when he enlisted in April, 1941. He went overseas in the following July.

A brother, William Satten, lives at 10527 111 street. Another brother, Morley Satten, is with the RCAF, while still another brother, Nick Satten, is at Fort William. He has three sisters, Mrs. Sam Levine of Montreal and the Misses Irene and Sylvia Satten of Palestine.

French Patriots Kill Countrymen Who Aided Nazis

PARIS, June 12.—(AP)—Armed men have summarily executed a number of alleged enemy collaborators and traitors in provincial France, it was reported yesterday.

A dozen men attacked a police station at Valon in the department of Isere, overpowering the guards and seizing a prisoner whose body later was found riddled with bullets. The dead man recently had been repatriated from Germany and was said to hold Fascist opinions.

CLEVELAND'S REALLY SAFETY-CONSCIOUS AND EDUCATION'S DONE IT

It may look silly but steering demonstration like this with model cars are playing an important part in the Cleveland high school driver training plan to make young drivers safety-conscious. An Ohio state highway patrol officer is an interested spectator at this lesson.

Teacher of safety to adult drivers is Mildred McKay who holds the key position in the safety drive as director of safety in Cleveland Auto Club.

Five hours a week in class and an hour a week in cars is the schedule of the college crowd but now looked upon with disdain, not to say alarm, by the city's young safety enthusiasts.

Desperate Effort Made In 1943

German Mine-Laying Subs Tried To Close Big Newfoundland Port

OTTAWA, June 13.—(CP)—German mine-laying submarines attempted to close off the important port of St. John's, Nfld., late in 1943 but "several dozen" enemy mines were swept up over a wide area by Canadian and British ships with the loss of only two merchant vessels, the navy disclosed today.

The announcement, withheld until now for security reasons, said one of the sunken ships went down in 40 minutes but all 38 members of the crew were rescued. The other, carrying one sank in 30 seconds with a loss of 27 lives out of a crew of 41.

Minesweepers worked from daylight to dusk for several weeks to complete clearance operations, holding nightly conferences after their sea job was done for the day, and every one of the enemy mines was accounted for.

Canadian-built Bangor minesweepers taking part in the operation, with their commanding officers, included: HMCS Sarua, Lt.-Cdr. R. G. Chenoweth, Montreal; HMCS Strathford, Lt. Donald W. G. Storey, Montreal, N.B.; HMCS Lockport, Lt.-Cdr. Raffle M. Wallace, Saskatoon; and Regina; HMCS Medicine Hat, Lt. J. E. Howard, Westmount; HMCS Grandmère, Lt. Cdr. J. Cuthbert, Vancouver; HMCS Vegreville, Lt.

The following story of the sweeping of German mines from Newfoundland waters was written late in 1943 but was withheld by naval authorities for security reasons. It now has been released for publication with the official navy announcement of the clearance of the mine by Canadian and British ships.—EDITOR.

By JOHN LEBLANC
Writer for The Canadian Press

HALIFAX, June 13.—(CP)—Cocky little escort craft of the Royal Canadian Navy guided a convoy through the first German minefield ever laid outside St. John's, Nfld., running through on schedule just a few hours after the mines had been discovered.

That was in the fall of 1943, just after German mine-laying submarines, sowed the mines which, a naval announcement from Ottawa disclosed today, were promptly swept up by Canadian and British ships with the loss of only two merchant vessels.

It was aboard HMCS Sarua, a jaunty Bangor craft, gallily thumbing her nose at the hidden explosive, that twice through the field before it had been swept up, and then readily followed a minesweeper through her third run while mines detonated by the sweepers detonated all around her.

NOT SCRATCHED

The convoy of freighters and its escort, first to go through the field, ran the gauntlet of destruction without a scratch. And—until we were out of sight, at least—there were no casualties among the courageous sweepers, though from Sarua we were able to count six huge explosions as their trailing aft touched off the globes of TNT.

Earlier, the word had gone around that two other mines had been found a few hours before we set out from St. John's for Canada on the morning of Oct. 13. How many more were swept up afterwards our ship hadn't heard by the time I left it at an east coast Canadian port.

The field was put down by Nazi mine-laying submarines, in the same way a similar field was laid off Halifax a few months before. There was no word on whether or not the intruder was subsequently trapped, though the assumption was managed to slip out after losing her death-laden eggs.

MINES BELIEVED HUGE

The mines must have been huge ones, for officers on the Sarua estimated they were throwing up water columns that towered a full 300 feet. Those things make our dog charges look like a pebble thrown into a puddle," one officer grinned.

But there was an air of nonchalance about the ship as she ran through the danger area that was reassuring to a landman coming up against a minefield for the first time. Many of the men off watch just packed in for some sleep as Sarua hit the field.

First Lieutenant Bill Hoggett of Regina summed up the matter succinctly when this reporter with him that he considered commendable foresight, was trying to figure out the workings of his lifebelt.

"I wouldn't worry about that," the officer advised cheerfully. "If we bump into one of those, all you need is a harp."

LONDON, June 13.—(CP)—The first Victoria Cross to be won by a member of the Royal Marines during this war was awarded posthumously yesterday to 21-year-old Corporal Thomas Beck Hunter of Edinburgh, who, the citation said, "deliberately offered himself as a target" to save his commando troop.

3,000 Casualties

Correspondent Says: Mail Is Greatest Booster Of Servicemen's Morale

By WILLIAM STEWART

SOMEWHERE IN THE PACIFIC, June 13.—(CP)—No mail where you travel among servicemen, you find that mail is the greatest morale booster of all. Probably no wartime rule has such universal application.

Mail was delivered to HMCS Uganda while the Canadian cruiser was at sea during her operation early this spring with a task force of the British Pacific fleet against Japanese bases in Formosa and the Sakhalina Archipelago.

When the warship returned from that operation 113 bags of mail were brought aboard. The effect on the ship's company was easy to see. Everyone agrees that spirits are kept up with a steady flow of mail from home.

DELIVERED IN TWO WEEKS

Letters written to the officers and men arriving with Uganda generally get good delivery. A few letters written in Canada on blue air mail forms were delivered within two weeks. Ordinary letters naturally take longer.

The men of Uganda are really news hungry and at seven o'clock every evening digits of the day's news picked up from broadcasts at dinner spread from the mess table are given over the cruiser's warning telephone system which reaches every part of the ship.

These newsreels were inaugurated by Lieut. Stuart Keate of Vancouver.

Independents Can Provide Govt. Majority government on other questions and it was expected they would continue to vote with the government at the next session.

This support would give the Liberal administration command of a sufficient majority of 29 seats in the 48-member chamber.

It was not known whether the government would obtain backing from four other Independents in Quebec. Two of these, Liguori Lacombe, Laval, Two Mountains, and Frederic Dorion, Charlevoix-Saguenay, sat as members of the independent group in the last house and usually voted against the government.

Progressive Conservative strength of 66 is expected to be supplemented by one Independent in the Conservative while the CCF probably will have the support of an independent CCF member. The CCF, in addition, has a candidate leading in the single seat still in doubt, North Battleford riding in Saskatchewan.

MARGIN IN DOUBT

However, the government's margin, as well as some of the strength of the opposition parties, will remain in doubt until the service vote, in which some 150,000 men and women in the services were eligible to cast ballots, is made public.

On the assumption that a candidate whose lead was seven per cent or less might be overtaken as a result of the service vote, it has been estimated that 65 seats are in doubt. Liberals lead in 29 of those seats, Progressive Conservatives in 26, the CCF in nine and other parties in seven.

Meanwhile, a full-dress meeting of the cabinet was expected to be held shortly to discuss the government's position and to talk over plans for the first session of the 30th parliament, expected to meet late in August or early in September.

CABINET CHANGES

Cabinet changes also are expected to develop shortly to fill three vacancies, two of them created by the defeat Monday of Defence Minister McLaughlin in Qu'Appelle and Revenue Minister Maclellan in St. John-Albert. The third vacancy was caused through the resignation of Postmaster General Mallock because of ill-health.

The suggestion that Maj. Power would back the government in the Commons was supported by reports in the capital yesterday that he might be called back into the cabinet to take over the defence ministry. There also was speculation that Maj. H. F. Bridges, elected Monday in York-Sunbury, might become revenue minister.

The Bulletin SPORTS CROWD by Hal Dean

FIRST to mark up a shutout this year, Bob Sawyer turned in the top chugging performance of the season at Renfrew Park on Tuesday night, as he still is added to the mix of players enjoyed by the pace-setting Signallers over the rest of the field.

Arrows occupy the basement stands in the stadium for the senior circuit for the first time, they are exactly three games away from the leaders, the winners of Thursday's Vanki-Clearance Arrows will be slightly under two games away from Capl. Clarence Arrows' ball tossers who were all pelted with new nats white money sacks for last night's game.

Sawyer and Johnny Gray, leaders in the pitching department, with two wins in a row are deadlocked in the matter of earned runs, each having allowed 15. Gray has given 14 hits as compared to 19 for the Signallers, but seven runs have crossed the plate while he was on the hill as compared to four for Sawyer.

The Yank pitcher has worked 19.53 innings as against 23 for Bob with 20 strikeouts to Sawyer's 15, but has issued 10 bases on balls to the Signallers' 13. Sawyer has worked four more prior to last night and in the 28.23 innings pitched has even up only two earned runs and he has whiffed 27.

Likely Co-Favorite Pavot Becomes Strong Threat For Preakness on Saturday

BALTIMORE, June 13.—(AP)—The Preakness steeplechase of Pavot, 1964 juvenile champion, skyrocketed Tuesday as the dark son of Ace ran a sensational 1:50 1-5 over the 3.16 mile distance of 3-16 miles in his final heavy workout before the Maryland classic Saturday at Pimlico.

The blistering pace of Walter M. Jeffords' last together with the announcement that George (The Iron) Wood of Cardston, Alta., would ride him Saturday, and that Eddie Arroyo would be on Hoop Jr. to try to duplicate his Derby triumph—really scrambled things.

Wood rode Pavot to his greatest victories in his unblemished two-year-old career and the wise bird-fingered two horse would be close to favorites when the betting closes. Arroyo must keep an engagement to ride Devil Drive in Saturday's Suburban at Belmont.

Pavot, with his exercise boy, Orlando Henrich, carried 120 pounds, as compared with the 136 he will have in the Preakness. He jiggered around the oval once, then out on a soft track.

F. W. Hooper's Hoop Jr. the horse to beat, took it easy in his barn as did the other Kentucky Derby contestants here. W. G. Lewis' Derby Dipper, third in the Derby, E. R. Bradley's Burning Diamond, along with Ball Bound which did not go to Louisville, but is considered a Preakness starter; Christians stable Alexia, which arrived Tuesday, and Capry's party of the world, died at 83.

32 Batters Face Hurler For Signals

Face Hurler For Signals

REGISTERING the first shutout of the season, Bob Sawyer tossed a seven-inning game at the Arrows at Renfrew Park on Tuesday night to give U.S. Signals a 4-0 win, the sixth out of eight starts in the Senior Baseball League schedule.

Only 32 Arrows faced the Signaller's left hander and just one of them reached third base. Another got as far as second.

Sawyer issued no bases on balls and in addition to collecting two outs he struck out three batters, two of the trio being the last to come up in the ninth.

Harstadford who had a pair of wins without a loss up to last night, had just one hit inning and it cost him the ball game as he was up with four hits in the fourth frame, two of them of a scratch variety, but also with an error they meant three runs, two of which were earned.

The final run in the sixth stanza was "measured" as it was no walk and he got five of the opposition via strikeout. Bill Gaudin's eighth hit, drive in was found for only one hit.

Both Arrows and Signallers went to the bat to advance the Signaller's fourth run was put on the path when Ed Schaefer went for a hit when Stafford threw to head off Culver at second was late and he sacrificed. Navy Drops Another Leo Cherot Pitches Moose To 5-2 Win Over Commandos

Making his first appearance of the season, Leo Cherot went to the mound for Tuesday's City Men's 5-2 Navy game doubleheader at Kingsway Park and hurled four-hit ball to defeat U.S. Red Cross Commandos 5-2, moving Ralph Allen's club into fourth spot.

The WMC's Nensuch crew was shoved deeper into the cellar in the curtain raise last night when they suffered their ninth straight defeat at the hands of Central-Aerolines 6-2.

Danny Mousie also hurled a four-hitter in going the route for Commandos but he walked three in the second inning when Moose came through with four runs which eventually meant victory.

Commandos took the lead in the first inning when Bob Barker reached first on a fielder's choice and catcher Alex Yallow advanced the runner to second.

Gen. Eisenhower Points to Need for Free Press

NEW YORK, June 12.—(AP)—Gen. Eisenhower, in a letter written last night, said "every soldier in this war has the right to hope that all peoples may have, at the very least, the advantage of a free press and the free exchange of information throughout the world."

The letter added: "The sadistic attitude of Nazi promoters is clearly intolerable to constant exposure to Hitler's propaganda, it is also something of which he is conscious. This attitude is most pronounced among those who have absorbed Hitler's vicious teachings since early childhood."

It is disturbing and disturbing to me to contemplate the possibility that in the future some nations might be able to establish to win armistice paper, and through his own manufactured propaganda nurture and develop the fanatical tendencies which we find today in so many Nazi promoters of war."

Great Britain and Russia, the two largest claimants of moral under Lend-Lease, received together one pound out of every 10 produced in the United States last year.

McCoy Health Service

Although every normal person desires to live a long and active life, not a few women to appear old and less attractive than they are. A few years ago men who had reached forty look like they were beginning to grow old, but this attitude is changing. We find men and women who have reached their families and are free to look for means of self-improvement and who seem to grow younger every day. It may not be possible due to live forever in the "springtime of life," but it is possible for us to live in a way that will avoid the many infirmities and disabilities usually associated with old age. It is undoubtedly true that unwholesome habits of living make a person prematurely aged and unattractive. Good habits will enable one to enjoy life for many years beyond the average span.

AVOIDING WRINKLES
One of the first indications of aging is the appearance of wrinkles. These wrinkles can be prevented to some extent by the following: 1. Proper habits of living and the right care of the skin. With an active life the blood does not seem to be as nourishing to the skin as it is in youth.

All questions regarding health and skin should be answered. Large clippings, well addressed envelopes must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 1213 West 8th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

London Gives Gen. Eisenhower City's Freedom

LONDON, June 12.—(AP)—London paid homage to Gen. Eisenhower yesterday, bestowing upon him the honorary Freedom of the City, highest civic honor the capital of the Empire can bestow.

Seated in a carriage drawn by a pair of bays, Gen. Eisenhower was escorted from Temple Bar to the Guildhall, where the ceremonies took place. Thousands lined the route of the procession and cheered the Allied commander, who was accompanied by Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Tedder.

Lively cheering went up as the crowd spotted Prime Minister Churchill in the front seat of his motorcade as it rolled swiftly along in the advance of the procession.

TRADITIONAL CEREMONY
All the colorful tradition of historic London was invoked for the occasion of what for Gen. Eisenhower was presented with a sword in token of his victory over Germany.

Later the King invested Gen. Eisenhower with the Order of the British Empire. The Allied commander is the first United States soldier to receive this honor.

Gen. Eisenhower arrived by plane Monday. He is expected to go to Washington next Monday and presumably after that will return to Europe.

Crop Situation Is Improving Across Canada

OTTAWA, June 12.—(CP)—Canada's crops are gradually recovering from the handicap of a late spring and though some areas require rain and farmers everywhere are looking for warm weather prospects are generally more favorable. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday the third of a series of nine telegraphic crop reports.

In the prairie all of the wheat has now been seeded and very little information on acreage is available yet, it is thought that seedlings will be considerably below earlier intentions, particularly in Manitoba.

Temperatures, generally, over the prairie continue to range between normal and rainfall, with the exception of some areas in Saskatchewan and in south-western Alberta is below normal.

EXCESSIVE MOISTURE
Some districts, within the Red River valley of Manitoba continue to report excessive moisture, which is delaying the seeding of crops. Conditions are most advanced in the southwest corner, where wheat is reported to be from one to six inches in height and still from one to two inches in the northwest corner.

Wheat seeding is completed in Saskatchewan and the seeding of coarse grains and flax will soon be finished. Wheat growth is reported good, but coarse grains only fair since the moisture supplies necessary for the development of the later-sown crops have been inadequate. Some damage from soil drying has occurred in the sub-arctic areas and wire worms are now putting in an appearance. The south-western and the south-west need rain.

The weather continues favorable in British Columbia and the growth of field crops during the last two weeks has been excellent. Prospects for the small fruit crops are good, but the set of apples is disappointing in some districts.

Police Are Unable To Find Weapon Used in Murder
NEW YORK, June 12.—(AP)—A pen knife and a nickel were the fruits yesterday of a police search of several in the vicinity of the apartment block for the death weapon used in the slaying of Albert B. Lansing, 68-year-old textile executive, a week ago.

Police said the search would be continued.

The district attorney's office announced that 16 hours of questioning of Robert Brown, New England coach, and Reed Lawson, former night club singer and one-time promoter of Mrs. Manning's former husband, widow of the slain man, had failed to produce a lead in solving the crime.

Assistant District Attorney Jacob Grimmer said the pair was summoned concerning purported reports that Redford had helped arrange the marriage of the Lansing family.

Treasure-Laden Pirate Vessel Is Believed Found
BOSTON, June 12.—(AP)—Edward R. Snow, New England coastal historian, says he believes he has located a treasure-laden pirate ship in 14 feet of water. All rules of Providence, on the up Cape Cod.

He said yesterday that two divers, and Bill Grogan, brought up coins from the wreck site. The vessel, he added, was discovered originally in 1870 when a fisherman was surfed from the ship.

He explained the new find was made while divers were attempting to identify positively the hull of a vessel believed to be the John Brown, which sank in a storm in 1780, with the loss of many lives.

The wreck ship, he said, was found during the time of the American Revolution, and at present, the wreck is in a state of decay.

Try Split Allies Nazi Fanatics Attempt Foster Berlin Discord

By EDDY GILMORE
BERLIN, June 12.—(AP)—The spirit of Nazism still lives in Berlin, virulent and brazen, and with tenacity enough to come out on the street and spread propaganda aimed at playing one of the Allies against another.

Many have been and are being set free by British youth and at least two Russian officers have been shot and killed by snipers.

Without question some followers of Hitler are performing just as the Russians predicted they would—carrying on operations behind the back of the Allies and seeking to spread the seed of distrust and commit sabotage wherever they can.

ENCOUNTER WITH YOUTH
I was walking alone near what is being used as the town hall when a German about 17 or 18 rode up on a bicycle.

"Pardon me," he said in passable English. "Are you British or American?"

"American," I told him. "We are glad to see you," he replied. "Do you know much about the Russians?"

I had just arrived here from Moscow. But he apparently thought I had come from France.

Alter Regulations On Ration Coupons
OTTAWA, June 12.—(CP)—The prices board announced that operators of hotels, boarding houses and summer tourist homes may henceforth collect coupons for rationed goods from those in residence every four instead of every two weeks as required previously.

The board said the new plan, effective from June 1, will make the collection of ration coupons in these establishments coincide more closely with the periods when the coupons become valid. Each four-week period will require the collection of one sugar, two preserves and three butter coupons from the resident's ration book.

In the case of new residents or temporary summer residents, no coupons are to be collected until the end of the first four weeks' stay and ration books need not be taken from persons staying less than four weeks.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(AP)—Fifty per cent low Pullman space and 10 to 12 per cent lower railroad coaches will be available for civilian travel in the United States in August and thereafter, transportation director J. Monroe Johnson said yesterday.

City to Bear Part Burden Isolation Fees

Free hospitalization will be provided in all cases where city residents are compelled to remain in hospital after the regular quarantine period for diphtheria and scarlet fever, and also in cases where scarlet fever attacks a second member of a family within three months of another member being confined to hospital with this disease, city council decided Tuesday.

The decision to grant free hospitalization in these three circumstances came through a submission from the local board of health. The submission was made by Dr. G. M. Little, medical officer of health. The resolution covering the granting of free hospitalization was passed unanimously.

On the motion of Ald. Sidney Bowers it was decided to request the Edmonton Hospital Board to submit to city council information as to the cost of giving free hospitalization to all communicable cases.

REJECT CLOSING REQUEST
The request for certain shoe shine parlors and hair cleaners that the type of business be included in the Wednesday afternoon closing law provisions was turned down by council following a short discussion. Aldermen were of the opinion that shoe shining was an essential service for visitors coming to the city, and the half-day measure of staff could be met by permitting them to take the half-day holiday on days of their own choosing.

Council approved of the principle of selling power in bulk at the city limits on a wholesale basis to properly control the distributing agencies, and instructed the commissioners to confer with any governmental authorities concerned, and also to discuss individual contracts to be approved in each instance by council.

Request for power supply was made by the residents of Strathcona and Sturgeon's municipalities, through P. R. Hayles, vice of the Strathcona municipality.

Council also approved the recommendation of the city commissioners that the route of the Highlands trolley bus in the downtown section will be straight along Jasper avenue to 102 street, then north to 100 avenue, and east to 100 street, and then south to Jasper avenue.

The usual resolution covering the destruction of noxious weeds by the city where the owner of the property has failed to comply with the bylaw, was passed.

COVERS WARTIME HOUSES
In connection with noxious weeds Ald. Bowers asked if the Wartime Housing Ltd. houses in Norwood can be covered with the city bylaw. City Solicitor Gariside was of the opinion they did not.

Ald. Bowers registered a complaint against the weeds now existing on many of the lawns of these houses and asked that action be taken by the city to remedy the situation.

The tender from the Public Construction company for $23,500 covering the supervision of the dismantling, moving to Edmonton and re-erection here of barge at Dawson Creek, B.C., was accepted by council.

The commissioners were requested to report on a complaint regarding city dump conditions in the downtown district. It was stated in the complaint that foul smelling smoke drifted into homes, and that the smoke was so heavy at times that it constituted a traffic hazard.

Mayor Given Leave On Account Illness
City council, Tuesday night, granted Mayor John W. Fry three days leave of absence on account of illness.

The resolution granting the leave was passed unanimously and is in conformity with the terms of the city charter which requires that leave of absence must be granted by resolution of council where the mayor is expected to be absent from council meetings for a period of more than three months. Failure to obtain the necessary leave of absence would result in a declaration that the mayorality has been vacated.

Mayor Fry was taken ill about two weeks ago, but has been making steady progress to recovery. His condition is so improved that he contemplates leaving Edmonton this week end to attend the annual meeting of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities to be held at Ottawa toward the end of June.

City Labor Council Hears Two Speakers
Regular meeting of the Edmonton Labor Council in the Imperial Bank building, Monday evening, heard Steve Giamas of Seattle and Bob Weaver of Calgary. Both were representatives of the International Garmentmen and Warehousemen's Union.

Mr. Giamas told the meeting that the I.L.W. Union was interested in doing whatever it could to build a strong labor movement, and also stressed the importance of having a united trade union movement. Also present at the meeting were H. E. Nichols and George Bevington representing the Alberta Farmers' Union. Mr. Nichols briefly outlined what farmers meant by price prices, and they felt that party prices must be maintained in the post-war years.

The meeting agreed to devote a greater part of the next meeting to a discussion of this matter, and invited the representatives of the I.L.W. to elaborate upon their views in that connection.

School Board Defers Study On Submission

A delegation from three Edmonton Home and School Associations which crowded the executive chamber of the Public School Board when it met Tuesday night were disappointed to hear the board refer a brief they had presented to a meeting of the property committee two weeks hence.

The delegates were present to hear a discussion on a consolidated brief they had sent to the board asking for better schools and facilities for students in the Alameda, King Edward Park and Forest Heights districts.

The members of the delegation were invited to attend the meeting at which the subject will be discussed fully.

COMMITTEE FORMED
The board of trustees of the joint action committee formed by the three organizations for the purpose of trying to get better schools to replace present units in the three districts.

R. S. Sheppard, superintendent of public schools, recommended that the three organizations to city schools, W. Gallimore, who has been on military leave from teaching since 1940, was appointed temporary principal at Queen Avenue. H. Gerry was named temporary principal of Bennett school. K. Kulak will be temporary vice-principal at St. Andrew's and G. Duckworth was appointed vice-principal of Calder.

Other recommendations included P. W. Woolton, vice-principal of H. A. Gray, E. Davis, principal of North Delfon, O. J. Boney, temporary principal at St. Andrew's, J. N. McCallum, temporary principal of Sherbrook.

The board passed all of the superintendent's recommendations, which will be effective when schools reopen in September.

The board decided to install natural gas mains and heating equipment in eight schools, at an approximate cost of $10,000.

Orders already have been placed with Northwestern Utilities Ltd. for installation of gas at Queen, Alameda, and St. Andrew's schools. The work will be made at Queen's Avenue and Alameda and St. Andrew's.

PRECAUTIONARY MEASURE
Board members said the action was taken as a precaution against a possible cold shortage next winter and also because the burning of natural gas involved sanitary conditions in the schools.

The gas company agreed to make the installations provided the board agreed to keep a banked fire in each school during the winter months, during the period of December, January and February, and also provided the board would agree to use only the coal-fired boilers to heat the schools whenever it was required to do so by the Northwestern Utilities Ltd.

Solicitor to Study Selling Complaint
Alleged discriminatory acts by certain hairdressing establishments and stores were reported by Ald. Henry Bowers to city council Tuesday, who instructed the city solicitor if any power rested with the city to stop or discriminate. T. G. Gariside, city solicitor, will report on the matter at the next regular meeting of city council.

Ald. Bowers said there were a few hair cutting establishments in the city where patrons had been refused service because they were wearing hats. He said that certain merchants, who insisted on wearing hats, were declining to sell silk stockings on the ground that stockings were being reserved for "steady customers."

Driving through an intersection at high speed isn't a thing to encourage. It's a dangerous practice, especially at corners where your view of approaching traffic is limited.

LOOK AFTER YOUR CAR
... That little old car you are driving has to last a bit longer . . . but who said "Old Car"? Like human beings, a car is just as old as it feels, and a little extra care chases away that old feeling. So let's "accentuate the positive" and LOOK AFTER YOUR CAR.

THE QUESTIONS
What is your reaction to City Labour Council's proposal for hospitalization in cases where city residents are compelled to remain in hospital after the regular quarantine period for diphtheria and scarlet fever?

THE ANSWERS
BORDON HAMILTON, clerk: I haven't studied the details but on the face of it, I would say it is a worthy social service.

JAMES WILSON, traveller: The fact that the city medical officer of health recommended it, and the City Council passed it unanimously is sufficient endorsement for me. It would seem to be a logical action.

HAROLD MCILLAN, trucker: The move is a good one, and forward movement of providing greater social services and I am in a way of that.
